

Automated flash chromatography Isolera® (Biotage, Sweden)

Fully automated flash chromatography system for sample purification. The integrated software allows the automatic calculation of the proper binary gradient starting from a TLC plate measurement. Two different wavelength can be used simultaneously for peak detection and automated fraction collection. Up to four solvents can be used during purification. No limitation on sample size.

Research Assistant: Dr. Rossano Chinchio