

Università degli Studi di Padova

DSF - edificio B 00240 00 - 021

FP-6500 spectrofluorometer (Jasco, JP)

Research Assistant: Dr. Sara Bersani

Fluorescence is an intrinsic property of specific compounds and the fluorescence spectroscopy is a very simple technique which can be used to detect or to characterize novel synthetic compound, such as small drug molecules or peptides and proteins.